City of Saratoga Springs Announces Short-Term Rental Workshop

Next Public Forum to Discuss Short Term Rentals in the Spa City

Saratoga Springs, New York, February 17, 2022 —Commissioner of Accounts Dillon Moran has set a date for the third public workshop hosted by the Accounts Department to continue the discussion about short term rentals in Saratoga Springs.

“We hosted public workshops in the fall to initiate the discussion about our community’s long history of rentals, and the current landscape and impact of short-term rentals on housing availability, neighborhoods, and safety. Saratoga Springs is a destination and a community, and the positive economic impact for locals needs to be balanced by defining short-term rentals. It is also important for local government to work toward effective and enforceable regulations especially regarding public health and safety challenges,” said Commissioner Moran.

This next discussion will include perspective on efforts at the state level and further dialogue on community concerns related to quality of life issues.

Saratogians interested in discussing short-term rentals and potential changes necessary to address the short-term rental market are encouraged to participate.

Short Term Rental (STR) Workshop

Saratoga Springs City Center, first floor

Wednesday, February 22, 2023
